Delta Upsilon To Sponsor 14th Bike Race

Delta Upsilon social fraternity will sponsor its 14th annual Bike Race Saturday.

Each fraternity will have relay riders and will race against time. The number of relay riders is unlimited.

The 2.2-mile course starts in front of the cemetery on Ridge Street. Riders will turn north on North College, east on Poe Road, and south on Yount Road, to circle the course.

The race starts at 9 a.m. and continues until noon.

Sororities will compete in a tri-cycle race around the square in front of the Union from noon until 1 p.m. Fraternities resume racing at 1 p.m. and continue until 4 p.m. for the finish. The winning fraternity will have completed the most laps.

A faculty race starts at 4:15 p.m. Each sorority will have a member of the faculty ride a bicycle. The rider proceeds from Yount Road to the finish line in front of the cemetery. The fastest time wins.

A speed race begins at 4:30 p.m. One man from each fraternity will ride one lap of the entire course. The fastest time wins.

Eleven trophies will be awarded. One trophy will be awarded to each of the top three sororities, and one trophy to each of the top three finishers in the fraternity race. One trophy will be awarded to the bike race queen, one the queen's sorority, one to the sorority that wins the faculty race, one to the faculty winner, and one to the individual fraternity member for the fastest speed lap.

New Council To Sponsor Dance Party

The Men's Inter-Residence Hall Council is sponsoring an all-campus dance from 9 p.m. to midnight Friday in the ballroom.

Bobby Haskins' combo will provide the music. Other entertainment will be provided by James Jones, male vocalist from Mercury Records, the Howard White Folk Trio, who record for Fortune label, and Lawrence Blake, dancer and comedian from Detroit. Sandra P. Sharp, female vocalist, will be the hostess.

Refreshments will be served and there will be no admission fee.

The dance will be held to introduce the students to the Council, which is composed of the president and vice president of each of the five men's residence halls.

The council is to serve as an advisory board or coordinating body for the administrative councils of the men's dormitories and to strive for the improvement of dormitory life.

Graduation announcements are now on sale in the Bookstore for those graduating in June. The price for five is 97 cents plus sales tax. Measurements are being taken for cap and gown in the Bookstore for those June candidates who have not yet been measured.

Weather Kites Kite Kalamity; Conklin Awards Extra Trophies

Despite rainy, cold weather, Conklin Kite Day was held Saturday at the athletic field behind the Fine Arts Bldg.

The program started at 1 p.m. with the judging of the most beautiful kite. The judging was held inside the Fine Arts Bldg. because of the rainy weather, said James R. Lewis, chairman of the event. Second floor of Rodgers Quadrangle was the recipient of the trophy for the most beautiful kite. After the judging, a vote was taken to see if the halls that had entered the kite flying contest wanted to postpone the contest because of the bad flying conditions. All voted to proceed with the event.

After 45 minutes of kite flying, most of the flyers left the field and went to Conklin Hall's lounge for a jam session.

THE SERENDIPITY SINGERS

Serendipity Singers To Offer 'Folk-Jazz'

"Folk-Jazz," a new sound in folk music, will be introduced on campus with the youthful Serendipity Singers, at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow in the ballroom.

The members of this group, who met on the University of Colorado campus where seven of the nine members were students, are: Bryan Sennett, 23, who is leader of the group; H. Brooks Hatch, 23; Lynne Weintraub; John Madden, 26; Jon Arbenz, 23; Bob Young, 24; Mike Brovsky, 23; Diane Decker, 21; and Tommy E. Tiemann, 22.

In 1962, they organized, chose the word "Serendipity," which means "the unexpected discovery of a new and happy event," as their name and began singing at University concerts, fraternity parties, and for local organizations.

Their first break in professional singing took place at New York City's celebrated night spot and folk mecca, The Bitter End, where they performed for more than a month before capacity audiences.

The Serendipity Singers are scheduled for numerous appearances in the larger cities of the nation and have been signed to do six "Hootenanny" television shows.

Tickets went on sale yesterday in the lobby of the Union. The prices are students and general admission, $1, reserved balcony seats, $1.50 and $1.75.

Ugly Man, Dormitory Auctions, Hootenanny To Benefit Charity

A Hootenanny, an "Ugly Man" Contest, and dormitory auctions will provide funds for the University's Charity Drive beginning tomorrow and continuing for one week.

The drive will benefit the student emergency, mental health, and cancer funds; the World University Service, and Radio Free Europe.

The Hootenanny, sponsored by the Charities Board, will be at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in the ballroom.

Joan S. Murlin, chairman of the Charities Board, says that tickets to the Hootenanny will be sold on a donation basis. She urges that students pay more than 50 cents for tickets so that the amounts over 50 cents may be donated to the charities.

Miss Murlin says ticket buyers may indicate to which charity they want their donations to go.

Each housing unit on campus has elected a representative for the charity drive. Hootenanny tickets may be bought from these representatives.

Candidates for the "Ugly Man" Contest, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity, were introduced at the Magicians' Ball last Friday. A table has been set up in the Union, with pictures of the "Ugly Man" candidates. Students may deposit their money in the box below the picture of the candidate of their choice. The winner of the contest will be the candidate whose box contains the most money. The winner will be announced at the Hootenanny.

Miss Murlin says that some of the dormitories are going to hold auctions, the proceeds of which will go to the charity drive.

Information on the drive and the respective charities will be available in each housing unit on campus.

Swan Club To Mark Birthday With 25 Years Of 'Reflections'

"Reflections" of the past 25 years is the theme of the Swan Club's silver anniversary show opening at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Natatorium.

Tickets are on sale in the lobby of the Union for the show also scheduled at 7 p.m. Friday and 7 p.m. Saturday. Tickets for Thursday and Friday nights are 75 cents for students and $1 for adults. All Saturday night tickets are $1.

25 Years Observed

Miss Iris E. Andrews, director of the Swan Club, said that this year's show is a collection of the most popular routines from shows during the past 25 years. The theme "Reflections" ties in with the club's twenty-fifth anniversary.

The entire Swan Club will form an aqua carousel to the music of the "Carousel Waltz." This routine represents the year 1949. Robert C. Leuten will perform to the "Riff Song" representing 1963. Kaye B. Reed and Barbara L. Williams do a routine to "Dry Bones" for 1956. For 1960, Helen L. Cafferty, Gayle I. Cline, Margaret A. Guenther, Mary Jane Stow, Sara J.

Stutz, and Susan T. Wisner do a sea monster routine.

Kathleen A. Delaney, Frances A. Mara, and Sally J. Hamilton are temple dancers for a 1958 reminiscence. Doing "Tico-Tico" for 1942 will be Margaret A. Constable, Susan E. Jones, Helen C. Osmond, and Sandra M. Smith. Judith A. Mesnick will appear costumed as a goldfish for her solo number representing 1957. For 1951, Miss Cline, Miss Delaney, Miss Guenther, and Miss Stutz will do a blues number. Barbara A. Randall and Linda J. Willaman will do a chain-gang convict routine for 1961.

1958 Remembrance

Jill A. Black, Miss Cafferty, Miss Cline, Miss Delaney, Barbara L. Eisele, Miss Jones, Lois L. Leavell, Miss Mara, Joane P. Nagel, Judith M. Poyse, Miss Reed, and Lynn K. Weigle will do "Waltz of the Flowers" for a 1948 remembrance.

Patricia T. Cellio, Miss Constable and Bonnie J. Harris will do the "Teahouse of the August Moon," routine for 1956. A bat routine for 1962 will feature Miss Mesnick, Miss Randall, Miss Willaman, and Miss Williams.

Under Water Routine

Miss Jones, Miss Osmond, Shirley J. Quigley, Miss Smith, Tania R. Sovitzky, and Susan K. Wellnitz will do an "Oklahoma" routine for 1959.

Miss Eisele and Judith L. Faurot will do a raggedy Ann and Andy performance representing 1945. Miss Cellio, Miss Quigley, Sally J. Richards, Miss Sovitzky, Miss Wellnitz, and Miss Wisner will do an under water routine from 1955.

Also from 1955 will be an "Anchors Aweigh" scene done by Miss Constable, Miss Faurot, Miss Guenther, Miss Hamilton, Miss Harris, Jacqueline T. Kulas, Miss Mesnick, Miss Osmond, Miss Randall, Miss Smith, Miss Willaman, and Miss Williams.

Performing to "I'll See You in My Dreams" of 1952 will be Miss Leavell, Miss Nagel, Miss Poyse, Miss Richards, Nancy O. Smith, and Miss Weigle.

Men To Perform

For 1960 three members of the men's swimming team will execute a routine with three Swan Club women to "Baubles, Bangles, and Beads." The men will be Robert C. Leuten, John L. Lindahl, and William R. White. They will swim with Miss Black, Miss Kulas, and Miss Reed.

Miss Hamilton will do a solo to the "Lost Shadow" for 1954. Ending the show, the entire troupe of 33 women will do a routine to "Sentimental Journey" previously done in 1953 and 1946.

Rebecca J. Dauer will provide the music for the show. Miss Winifred Wood furnished the troupe with costumes.

Bloodmobile Tops Quota

The Red Cross collected 163 pints of blood Thursday during its visit to the University. This total topped the minimum goal of 125 pints.

Mrs. Clayton R. Cook, coordinator of the Bloodmobile visit, said, "Over 100 volunteer workers combined to make this program a success. A total of 197 persons offered to give blood, but 34 were deferred."

Each donor is entitled to the following benefits:

1. The Wood County Chapter of the Red Cross will replace, free of charge, blood needed by any student enrolled on a full time basis in any hospital on the "Cooperating Plan" in the United States.

2. The donor and his immediate family will be eligible to receive free blood for one year from the date of his last donation.

So that the students would not be delayed, each donor was given a ticket with the time of his registration. This was done in an effort to keep the program running smoothly.

Advising Begins Tomorrow; Pre-Registration Starts Monday

Academic advising for the summer sessions and for the first semester 1964-65 for rising seniors will begin tomorrow.

A student who expects to be graduated in January, 1965, or June, 1965, should secure approval of his list of subjects from his adviser and the office of the dean of the college in which he is enrolled.

Academic advising for rising juniors, sophomores, and second semester freshmen will begin on Thursday, and will continue until Wednesday, May 20.

Starts Monday

Complete registration envelopes for the fall semester will be accepted at the office of the registrar starting Monday. Students will be expected to show evidence of having paid the administrative service charge for the first semester when they submit their schedule envelopes. Students who are unable to submit an approved list of courses at the time indicated by the schedule may report at a time later than is assigned.

Schedule envelopes for the first session of summer school will be accepted from undergraduate students on May 23 in accordance with the schedule printed in the Summer Bulletin or on any day thereafter.

Schedule Of Classes To Expand

A 20 per cent increase in enrollment over a two-year period has necessitated an expanded schedule of class periods at the University for the 1964-65 academic year, said Kenneth H. McFall, vice president.

President William T. Jerome III announced that beginning next September, undergraduate and graduate classes will be scheduled from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays—a record total of 68 hours weekly. The schedule has been presented to Academic Council, Student Council, and administrative officers.

Dr. Jerome said the University has had a net gain of 10 classrooms and laboratories since 1962. On-campus enrollment will increase by 1,396 students, from 7,504 in September, 1962, to an estimated 8,900 next fall.

By way of contrast, he pointed out this nearly 20 per cent increase exceeds the increase in total enrollment at any one of the 26 of the 54 accredited colleges and universities in Ohio at the beginning of the current academic year.

Theatre To Present Lusty Murder Plot

"Therese Raquin" will be presented by the University Theatre at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in the Joe E. Brown Theatre.

This third major production of the year by the University Theatre will bring to its audience a glimpse of the naturalistic or "slice of life" drama formulated by Emile Zola in the late 19th century France.

Zola first wrote "Therese Raquin" as a novel and later dramatized the work in an attempt to rid the contemporary trend in drama of its artificialities and conventions. He took life as his model, and in "Therese Raquin" he sought to make a strong comment on life and society.

As a naturalistic dramatist, Zola placed his characters in an environment to see how they would react to the situations before them. Assuming that man's behavior was motivated primarily by instinct and emotion, his characters do not choose their destiny. Rather they react to the prevailing situations and stimuli which confront them.

"Therese Raquin" presents a situation in which Therese and her lover are driven by lust to murder her husband. Eventually they are driven to self-destruction as they cannot escape from the results of their crime.

Therese and her lover are not only haunted by their own consciences, but also by the all-knowing and hating eyes of Mme. Raquin, who became paralyzed upon learning of the death of her son.

The cast consists of Barbara J. Peres, Robert W. Hopper, Nolan L. Drummond, Mary J. Murphy, Karin L. Wunderlich, Susan J. Kay, Larid C. Goulding, and James S. Darke.

Tickets for "Therese Raquin" are on sale from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Joe E. Brown Theatre Box Office. If available, tickets will be sold at the door on the evenings of performance.

Editorially Speaking . . .

Commuter Complications

Last May Student Council passed a resolution recommending specific facilities be provided by the University for commuting students.

Nothing happened until this year when three commuting students, with the aid of the Council president, formed the Commuter Affairs Committee.

The committee created a questionnaire to survey the needs of the commuting students and said results would be dependent upon response, answers and suggestions on returned questionnaires.

The response was small. One hundred and eleven of the 1,000 commuting students completed the questionnaires.

There was very little consistency in the answers and suggestions were numerous and, according to the committee chairman, were alternatives to points presented in the questionnaire.

Because it is late in the year, the committee is rushed and will not have time to attempt to poll the remaining 900 students.

The facts and figures are expected to be endorsed by Council and to be presented to the administration.

Is this hurry-up study representative of the commuting students' wants and needs?

Perhaps the committee would like another suggestion: organize, motivate and activate. The planning has been good but the organizing and motivating aspects need considerable attention. These are not faults of the committee, rather they are barriers that require more time to overcome. After more conclusive data has been formulated the committee, Council, and the commuters must make a concerted effort to activate their ideas.

The entire study should be a continuous campaign to collect more data and ideas to help the commuting students, not one-shot affairs every six or seven months.

The problems of the commuters are well worth considerable attention and that seems to be what is needed.

Official Announcements

Ushers are needed for the remaining two major dramatic productions: "Therese Raquin," Thursday, Friday, and Saturday; "Richard III," May 21, 22, and 23. Anyone interested in ushering should contact Michael G. Flanagan, 116 South Hall.

All students who have not yet received their Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine should do so at once. The vaccine is a combination one, two, three type vaccine, and is distributed in the form of sugar cubes. There will be a doctor at the Health Center to administer the vaccine between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and between 9 a.m. and noon on Saturday.

Students interested in registering for summer course English W490, Independent Reading in English, should contact Richard C. Carpenter, 218 University Hall (Ext. 452), for a course description and reading list. Students at the sophomore level and above will generally be eligible for the course. An organization meeting will be held at 4:30 p.m. Friday, May 22, in 216 University Hall, to arrange further details.

The annual Kappa Mu Epsilon Mathematics Test will be given at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 140 Overman Hall.

Two awards for the top two scores on the test will be given, plus a special freshman award.

Counseling Center will administer examinations to three groups of prospective students Saturday. Twenty-five high school students will take the American College Test. Approximately 100 prospective graduate students will be taking the Graduate Record Examination from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in 302 Hanna Hall. The Admission Test for Medical Schools will be given to medical students from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in 105 South Hall. Thirty students are expected to take the test.

The first shipment of the 1964-65 University catalog recently arrived on campus. Students may purchase them for 50 cents each at the University bookstore.

Applications for the positions of editor-in-chief and business manager of the 1965 Key may be obtained in the School of Journalism office, 104 University Hall.

The salary for the business manager is $400 and the maximum salary for the editor-in-chief is $800.

AWS Installs New Officers; Hursh Vetoes 'Scarf' Proposal

News officers of the Association of Women Students were installed at the organization's open meeting Tuesday.

Barbara A. Hursh, past president, installed Joyce J. Bednar, newly elected president, after presenting a summary of the activities of AWS during the past administration.

She also noted improvements in communication between women students and AWS representatives.

Also installed into office were Christina S. Carfrey, first vice president; Sally A. Althoff, second vice president; Kay M. Gibson, recording secretary; Peggy K. Conrad, treasurer; Susan N. Dickey, corresponding secretary; Carolyn A. Rolf, senior representative; Darby C. Strand, junior representative; and Carol M. Cianfarani, sophomore representative.

In other business, Christine Preyer, chairman of the Rules Committee, said the committee, organized to evaluate and make changes in the outdated rules of AWS, has conducted buzz sessions in the dormitories, sent questionnaires to other schools, and studied catalogues of various women students' associations. The committee is still working on a new plan of rules to fit the needs of today.

During the president's report, Miss Hursh announced that she had vetoed the motion that recommended that "each residence hall house board make its own decision regarding the wearing of scarves over wet hair to meals."

The next legislative board meeting will be held at 3:30 p.m. today in the Taft Room.

Criticizes Critics

To The Editor:

The ability to criticize the policies and procedures of various organizations on the Bowling Green campus has been the sole objective of certain minority groups. I am appalled by this activity because it frequently represents the opinion of a group of people who are unqualified to criticize. Imaginatively speaking, these people seek relief by analyzing a problematic situation over a glass of beer and then with their contemporaries decide to enlighten us with their complaints.

Please do not misunderstand me. I do not object to their criticism if they offer a valid solution to a problem; however, most of these objections to policy have, without consideration for improvement, taken a revealing air.

I think that a critic should create an objection and then offer a solution. One should attempt to satisfy the students who desire an answer.

'Professional Gloss' Highlights University Theater Production

By Alberta Lintecume
News Staff Writer

There was a nice professional gloss on the University Theatre's second major production of the semester, Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness." This was due in no small part to John Hepler's imaginative stage settings. Mr. Hepler has a reputation for fine stagecraft and he certainly outdid himself in "Wilderness" with three nicely contrasted sets and a very effective lighting design.

The action of the play revolves around a family's concern for a younger son who is idealistic and misunderstood. The boy nearly falls prey to liquor and bad women but is saved at the brink by the effects of a wholesome home life and the love of a sweet young thing.

If all this sounds terribly familiar, it is because we have been exposed to variations of this theme ranging from film productions in glorious, glamorous technicolor to weepy black and white daytime serials. If this play had been written by anyone but Mr. O'Neill, it would simply be called a "hokey" play; but as Mr. O'Neill has been dead just long enough to have acquired the stature of a sacred cow, we feel obligated to try to justify what was, after all, a mishmash of sentimentality.

The play has no wit; if it was meant as satire, it was so gentle as to be unnoticeable except in relation to Mr. O'Neill's other work. The play was nostalgic wish-fulfillment from the pen of a dramatist who ordinarily consistently and bitterly attacked romantic exaggeration.

Dr. Robert Findlay's lively and forthright direction nudged the laughs and came up with a crowd pleaser.

The cast of the "Ah, Wilderness" production was considerably more than adequate. Dennis R. Patella was marvelous as the naive youth as was Jack B. Winget in a nicely sustained characterization of the father. Virginia H. Zullo was an enthusiastic Mrs. Miller and Neal R. Fenter as the drunken uncle had most of the funny dialogue, and consequently made quite a hit with the audience.

Linda H. Stephens was suitably showy in the plum role of Belle, the scarlet woman. Diane L. Gosnell as the sweet innocent Muriel, seemed a bit nervous on opening night but nevertheless shows a great deal of promise.

USAF Blasts Stickmen, 8-3

The Falcon lacrosse squad dropped an 8-3 decision to the United States Air Force Academy Saturday in its biggest test in a brief two-year history of intercollegiate competition.

The triumph for the visiting cadets upped their season mark to an unblemished 3-0 which added to last year's unbeaten 7-0 mark gives the Air Force a 10-game winning streak.

Somewhat "nervous" according to captain Mike Corrigan, the Falcons relinquished three quick points to the Academy and trailed 5-0 at halftime.

In the second half, the Falcons played on even terms with each team penetrating the opposition's defense for three goals. Don "Corky" Williams finally connected for the Falcons early following intermission. Bob Schaubert added to Williams' effort with another goal minutes later.

Corrigan concluded the host's scoring with another unassisted tally early in the final period.

Corrigan credited the setback to "Inexperience again," adding that the defense was not up to par.

The team's leading scorer, Larry Bice, played but was slowed considerably by a badly sprained ankle which forced him to make use of crutches during the week.

The stickmen take on Ohio Wesleyan Saturday hoping to avenge a humiliating 13-4 defeat last year.

Falcon Nine Down Miami, 10-6 To Capture Mid-American Lead

By Larry Donald
News Sports Writer

Take Tony Trent or George Verber off the baseball field and you have two of the nicest guys on campus, but put this twosome on the baseball field armed with baseball bats and you have one of the most awesome, destructive forces in the Mid-American baseball circuit.

The Bowling Green twosome combined their efforts Friday to give the Falcons a 10-6 win over previously unbeaten Miami at windswept Falcon Field.

Trent, who now paces the team with a .515 batting average, cracked out a two-run homer and drove home two others, in addition to scoring one run himself.

A notch lower at .500, Verber was equally destructive. The veteran leftfielder slashed out two long triples and a run-producing single.

Jack Thompson, dean of the Falcon staff, went all the way to record his third victory of the spring campaign against no losses. The slender righthander, facing a stiff 30-mph wind all afternoon, was not his usual sharp self. The Redskins raked him for thirteen hits and six runs. Only four of the runs were earned, however.

Bowling Green wasted little time getting to Miami starter Ray Himes. The Redskin southpaw was tagged for seven runs, including Trent's two-run shot, in the first inning before Bruce Guiler could get in to douse the fire. Guiler worked the rest of the way and yielded only three runs.

Miami roughed up Thompson in the first inning when an error, a base hit and a pair of walks gave them a temporary two run lead. Thompson then closed the door until the fifth when he surrendered four earned runs. These were the only innings in which Miami threatened.

The Bowling Green win combined with Ohio University's 2-1 win over perennial champion Western Michigan gives the Falcons a here-to-fore unknown seat at the head of the MAC baseball scramble.

Dick Young's charges have marched to a perfect 3-0 slate in the MAC with a pair of wins over Toledo and the Miami victory. The Falcons have an 8-1-1 mark in all games.

Western Michigan and Ohio University are riding in the number two position and working hard toward dethroning the Falcons.

Bowling Green will host Dayton this afternoon and Eastern Michigan tomorrow afternoon before returning to the MAC this week-end at Kent State.

Mid-Am Dominates Ohio Relays; Bryant 2nd In Hop, Skip, Jump

Although the Mid-American Conference teams dominated the Ohio State Relays at Columbus, Saturday, Ken Bryant was the only member of the Falcon varsity who was able to take significant honors.

Facing competition from 28 colleges and universities, Bryant captured second place in the triple jump. He hopped, skipped, and jumped to a total of 44' 7"—not far off the winning combination of 44' 11 1/2".

Amazingly, Bryant never had competed previously in the triple jump, and he only had a chance to attempt the event several times while warming-up, Saturday.

The only other member of the Falcon aggregation who placed near the top was freshman Paul Garrett, who was fourth in the 100-yard dash.

Representatives from MAC schools dominated the competition, winning six of the 20 events, while the Big Ten was held to only five. Topping the individual team performances were The Chicago Track Club and the University of Michigan, both of whom won three events.

Members of the Falcon squad who had good clockings but failed to place were Jerry Dauer, 330-yard intermediate hurdles, :38.5 and 120-yard high hurdles, :14.9; Ron Rawlin (freshman), 330-yard hurdles, :15.9; and Rick Greenberg, 100-yard dash, :10.0.

"We were weakened in the relay events, because two of our top men, Steve Saelzler and Ralph Canady could not participate because of injuries," said Falcon Coach Mel Brodt.

Brodt expects both Saelzler and Canady to be ready today when the Falcons visit Ball State. Last year the Falcons trounced the Cardinals, 89 1/2 to 36 1/2.

Komives Selected Most Outstanding In Lions Tourney

The nation's leading scorer, Howard Komives, was selected the outstanding player in the Lions Invitational Basketball Tournament in Sistersville, West Va.

The Falcon All-American scored 127 points in three games, averaging 42.3 per contest. His team, however, Dietz Insurance of Beverly, Ohio, finished fourth in the tournament.

The championship club, Swearington Sporting Goods, was led by Ohio University's Paul Storey, Jerry Jackson, and Charles Gill, key figures on the Bobcats Mid-American Conference title team.

Storey poured in 36 points in the final game while the opposition was defending Jackson, Ohio's all-time scoring king, who had accounted for 34 points the previous night.

Linksters Fall To Irish, TU, Down Dayton

Soaring well above their averages, the Falcon linksters managed just one win in three contests Saturday, falling to host Notre Dame, 27 1/2-8 1/2, and Mid-American Conference rival, Toledo, 22-14, while defeating Dayton, 23 1/2-12 1/2.

The golfers, now 5-4 for the season, fared well in the morning of the 36-hole test but faded badly in a disastrous afternoon round. The Falcons trailed Notre Dame at the 18-hole turn, 10 1/2-7 1/2, but could manage just one point in the afternoon.

Coach Forrest Creason's proteges led the Rockets, 10-8 at the same point, but were outscored 4-14 to absorb the setback. Dayton outscored the Falcons 11-7 in the afternoon but trailed 16 1/2-1 1/2 at the end of the initial 18 holes.

Notre Dame's Jim Hiniker captured medalist honors for the day, firing a 75-70—145 total over the par 71 South Bend layout. The Irish linkster closed brilliantly with a 37-33.

Sophomore Ted Williams garnered medalist for the Falcons, opening up with a fine par-equaling 71 and adding a 79 for a 150 total. Close behind Williams was another sophomore, Pat McGohan, with a consistent 75-76—151.

Veteran Stu Hughes struggled to a 75-85—160, his worst competitive effort. Number five man, Ron Apple opened with an 82 but came on strong in the afternoon, the only Falcon to improve on his opening 18-hole effort, with a 78 for a 160 total.

Dick Ambrose, a three-year regular, soared to 80-82—162 but was feeling below par, making the day a long one. Chuck Darnell, the number six man, had a good 76 in the morning but faded to 86 and a 163 total.

Notre Dame enjoyed a clean sweep over the Falcons, shutting out all six of them from the victory column. Against Toledo, McGohan and Williams captured wins while Hughes managed a tie. Ambrose, McGohan, Apple, and Darnell won against Dayton and Hughes and Williams tied.

Rain Cancels Net Matches

"It was an indecisive and disappointing week end," offered Falcon tennis mentor Robert Keefe. "Our match with Ohio Wesleyan was called on account of darkness and our scheduled match with Ohio was rained out."

The only solace that the veteran coach could gather from the series of events was that his team still sports an unblemished record of six wins and no losses although the Battling Bishops of Wesleyan came close to spoiling it.

The Bishops were leading the Falcons, 4-3, with the outcome of the two doubles matches still in doubt when darkness made following the flight of the ball nearly impossible.

Since neither team had captured five points, the minimum number needed to constitute a victory, no winner or loser could be determined. It appears unlikely that the match will be made up due to traveling circumstances.

The rematch with the Bobcats possibly will take place May 21, the day before the Mid-American championships in Oxford. The Falcons take on Dayton on the University courts Saturday.
